

If they can live together for a year without leaving the apartment they get a million bucks.

COUCH DREAMS

Genre: 1/2 hour Comedy series

Director: Shayne Metcalfe

Writers: Jody Peters, Shayne Metcalfe

Producers: Shayne Metcalfe, Jody Peters, Tracy Westgard,

COUCH DREAMS

Log Line: Two guys accept a bet for $1 million where they can't leave their apartment for one year.

Synopsis:

Couch Dreams is a bold and exciting new comedy set in urban Saskatoon, Saskatchewan.

When Drake's grandmother dies he inherits $1 million dollars. The only catch... he can't leave his apartment for one year... and his childhood friend Jenson whom he hasn't seen in years has to live with him in the apartment. If they leave before the year is up they get diddly squat, if they can pull it off they get a million bucks... each

Couch Dreams is about two people on the wrong side of 40 that get stuck in an apartment for one year. Possibilities in mid-life are exciting and scary, a time when we are searching for answers in the last half of life. It's about acceptance, friendship, dreams and going after what makes you happy even if you are middle aged.

What makes us different?... Couch Dreams is part traditional sitcom and part sketch style through the use of dreams sequences where characters get "trapped" on the couch. Drake - a brown guy who was raised by white Mennonites is a another unique element of the series. It's also the first comedy series ever to be set in urban Saskatchewan.

Testimonials from: comedycoup.cbc.ca/couch-dreams

"I can definitely see the potential for some side splitting events and being able to identify with the characters easily. Looking forward to it!"

"Awesome concept!...
I know I won't miss an episode!!!"

"I really like this concept of having to stay in the house and especially the dream sequences."

"Nice change from the garden variety reality comedy based or variety comedy sort of stuff done already on air."

"This concept is awesome! Saskatchewan has so much talent and this is another mover and shaker that is designed to entertain! Genius!!!"

<https://www.facebook.com/couchdreams>

@couchdreams

