ROLL 4
DAMAGE

WHAT IS THIS? WHAT'S HAPPENING?

Listen, guys, can we be real with you for a second? We know Dungeons and Dragons gets a bad rap. "It's for nerds!" the people jeer. "It's a cult!" says my grandma's friend Marcy.

But those jerks (sorry, Marcy) haven't watched Roll for Damage.

This smart and silly half hour comedy follows Christine, a talented artist with a lack of both life direction and clean dishes as she joins a weekly fantasy role-playing game. Her problems quickly become interwoven with the colourful lives of her fellow players.

The gang slays the occasional warlock, sure (it's just part of life in the lower mainland!), but they do it as a respite from their real life problems—falling in love with a squeegee girl, harbouring a secret family in the Philippines, running a dog talent agency, or attempting to kickstart a left-wing country-western music career. You know, the sort of things we all go through in our late twenties.

CAN I WATCH IT ON TV?

Not yet! Roll for Damage is a top contender in CBC's Comedy Coup competition, which pits comedy shows against each other for a chance at a development deal. Recently,

Roll for Damage made the cut for the top 50 projects and our psychic tells us that this winning streak will continue and you'll see your new favourite show on CBC in Fall 2015. Better set your DVRs now, amiright!?

OTHER FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Does it star hilarious Vancouver comedians?

You know it.

Does killer fantasy art annotate the live-action scenes?

Of COURSE.

Is it for people who hate fun?

YES! These are the people who need it most!

Do I need to know anything about Dungeons? What about Dragons?

Nope! The show assumes you know nothing about this stuff. We got your back, baby. angel.
