KILLING IT

LET'S LAUGH AT DEATH TOGETHER

Imagine a show where characters never feel bad about picking people to die and you never feel bad for laughing about it. This is "Killing It," a half hour dark comedy about three immoral friends who've been given the power of death by a retiring grim reaper.

That couple who won't shut up about their adopted newborn? A smartass ten-year-old? Everyone dies at some point, so nothing is off limits! "Killing It" is a show about life and death, but it's not a story about morals. Any lessons our main characters learn will be completely misguided. We promise.

THE SHOW THAT PEOPLE ARE CALLING:

"Enjoyable and twisted,"

"Something that Canadian television has never seen,"

& "Fantastic, but I would prefer more nudity"
