Attention: Detective John Constable

!!!HIGH PRIORITY TARGETS!!!

Case ID: GOONS: These are three nameless thugs, codenamed "One", "Two", and "Three". Their clumsiness, stupidity, and short tempers have gotten them fired from every job they've ever had, forcing them to turn to a life of crime. These three Goons appear to be the new 'muscle-for-hire' in town, luckily, they're sloppy, and inexperienced. They seem to be taking on larger jobs, making them higher targets than anything else we've seen this year. They are considered the main priority for you, and you can not let them carry on business here. They MUST BE STOPPED! They have a good habit of getting away and causing a rukus anywhere they go. And try not to make them angry.. They're all a little... off.

ONE

TWO

THREE

- The "leader" of the group
- The most grounded of the three
- He's quick to anger, slow to reason, loves beer, and hates sleeves.
- When life gives him lemons, he smashes them.

- Not the brightest bulb in the pack.
- Charming ways and lanky limbs are quite handy
- Willingness to do anything, and unquestioning loyalty
- When life gives him lemons, he gets excited that he has free lemons.

- Self proclaimed weapons expert never backs down from a fight or a perfectly flaky crust... interesting...
- Always has a plan, never has a clue
- Always shoots first, never asks questions.
- When life gives him lemons, he uses half for pie, and keeps the rest in his utility belt to use against his enemies later.

These "Three Stooges" think they're in an "Expendables" movie. Skulls made of iron, brains made of mush.

Their inexperience, and love of classic rock doesn't mean this is a cake walk... I have a feeling these guys will be around for a while.

Good luck, Detective... You'll need it.
