LOGLINE

Fearlessly ignorant journalists investigate the world's most underreported news stories.

SYNOPSIS

If you're expecting some fake-ass news anchor reporting stories from the safety of a bright lit studio then rip this document in half!

Dope Ass World is a half-hour, single camera comedy following a team of naive globetrotting journalists as they attempt to investigate the world's most underreported (and completely fake) news stories. Combining mockumentary with conflict driven narrative - These stories may start off like traditional news pieces, but after things take a turn for the worse, you're in for some outrageous high-stakes adventures!

Battling evil foreign dick-tators! Kicking trendy drug addictions! Escaping weird-ass cults! No matter what they get in to, one thing's for sure... They don't come home til' they've got their story.
